

k-love has been a part of my life for the past 7 years. it has given me daily hope and inspiration. it keeps my thoughts positive and pointed to heaven. having daily words from God helps keep all of us doing the right thing. without God's word in our community, humans will become hardhearted, non-compassionate people, without mercy for others. what will become of us without daily influence from God?